ENTRIES FOR THE DOG SHOW.

Notwithstanding that the entries to the coming dog show of the Westminster Club closed last Monday. Superintendent Liucoin was unable until Sanurday to give the number, on account of many entries delayed by the unils. Exclusive of pumpies, of which there will be aver 200, 1.117 dogs have been cutered for the exhibition. Of these, 134 are pointers 235 English setters, 71 black and tan setters, 135 frish setters, 27 mastifis, and 32 St. Berneris. 9 of which are rought-coated, 9 smooth-coated, 9 of which are rought-coated, 9 smooth-coated, and 14 puppies. In addition to these there will be 26 Newfoundland dogs, including "Charley," owned by General Roger A, Pryor, and "Donald, the winner of the first prize at Toronto in 1878, owned by G. Hamilton. The greybounds will number 13, decraounds 7, and the Siberian dogs 21. An unusually fine display of fox terriers will be masle, the number of entries being 55. Of ball-dogs there will be 20, bull terriers 33, 8kye terriers 16, pugs 33, Japanesa spannels 9, and 3 sik-haired terriers. In the miscellaneous class there are 40 entries, among which are an Australian wild dog, 2 Chesapeake dogs—one of which is the famous "Turk," which saved Miss Haines from drowning, at Penninansville, Md., not long ago—2 English retrievers, and 3 Bedlington terriers. There are 21 entries for the special prize to be awarded to the best setter or pointer owned or exhibited by a lady. A special prize will be given for the lurgest and best collection of dogs owned and exhibited by one person or club.

The number of entries will be increased by animals from abroad during the present week. James Watson, of The London Field, arrived Tuesday on the Arizona, bringing with hum four exceptionally valuable dogs. These are "Belle," a black-and-tan setter, owned by William Graham, of Belfast, Ireland; "Notile," a black-and-tan, twenty months old, and "Kattleen." red, three years and six months old, which are owned by Mr. Watson, of Jeres and "Watson, of The London Field, arrived T exhibition.

There will be forty-three uniformed attendants at the Garden, and a new set of stalls will be made. No stalls will be placed around the outer edge of the floor. Six double rows will extend the length of the building, except a circular space in the centre, in which the sporting dogs are to be judged.

PREPARING THE BEACHES FOR VISITORS.

PREPARING THE BEACHES FOR VISITORS.

The favorable weather has enabled the workmen engaged upon the improvements at Coney Island to make rapid pregress recently. At Brighton Beach the filing in has been done and the work of putting on the soil has been done and the work of putting on the soil has been begun. The bathing navilion is being extended at the rear 80 feet by 50 feet. New water and gas works are building.

At Manhattan Beach the new hotel, the Oriental, has assumed substantial shape. Two stories, beside the basement, are completed at the castern end, and at the western portion a story and a half are up. The flooring of the centre part is nearly done.

D. C. Corbin, in conversation with a Tribune reporter recently said that the Oriental would be completed by June, but would probably not be opened until July. "It will stand on higher ground," he added, "and he more quiet than the Manhattan. It is built especially to accommodate people who go to the Island expecting to stay some time. They can feel more at home at the Oriental, because the greater crowds will not be so apt to get there."

Mr. Corbin also stated that the Eastern part because the greater crowds will not be so apt to get there."

Mr. Corbin also stated that the Eastern part of the Marine Railroad would be extended so as to connect the new bottel with the older one. The trains on the road to Manhattan will be started in the latter part of next mouth. Gilmore's band has been engaged for the season, and the management will be under Major Burnap, who has had charge of Manhattan for the last three years. The new bulkhead, which is much more solid than the old, and is half a mile in length, will be finished next month, and everything is expected to be ready for Summer visitors by the list of June. Major Burnap states that many of the former patrons of the hotel have already engaged rooms for the coming season, and he expects, from present indications, that both hotels will be filled by the first of July. The new hotel will contain over 400 siceping-rooms, and will be finished in an attractive style.

The Concy Island Jockey Club has decided not to build a club-house at Manhatan until next season. The new track at Sheepshead Bay is rapidly advancing. The course is directly opposite the Manhattan Beach Hotel, on Ocean-ave, and contains 112 acres of time, sandy loam soil. It is three-quarters of a mile from the beach, and the Manhattan Beach Railroad will run to its main gate, which will be on Ocean-ave. The bridge across the head of the Railroad will run to its main gate, which will be on Ocean-ave. The bridge across the head of the bay to connect Manhattan Beach with Ocean-ave, will be began in about two weeks. The grand stand on the course is partly finished, and six stables have already been completed. The first races of the club on the new course will be held June 10, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

A BIGAMIST AT TWENTY-TWO.

A BIGAMIST AT TWENTY-TWO.

George A. Paul, age twenty-two, an employed in a Grand-st. grocery store, was arrested on Saturday night and taken to the Eldrigo Street Station House, where he was confronted by two good looking and well dressed young women who charged him with bigany. Yesterday morning he was arraigned before Justice Patterson at the Essex Market Police Court, when Mrs. Alma Paul fornerly Miss Alma Potter, of No. 360 West Twenty-eighth-st., testified that Faul had married her while having a wife living. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Sill, on February 24, 1880, at No. 152 Springst. She further alleged that after living with her for one week he abandoned her and went West. Mrs. Cornelia Paul, formerly Miss Cornelia Briggs, of No. 348 Ninth-aye., testified that she was married to Paul on February 7, 1877, by the Rev. Thomas Lodge, paster of the Twenty-fourth Street Methodist Church, and that he lived with her until last December when he abandoned her.

The accused man, who is good looking and well-dressed, with an incipient mistache, said "he had nothing to say at present." Upon the evidence addinced Justice Patterson committed him for trial, fixing his bail at $2,000. In default of hail the uxorious young person was taken to prison. In conversation with a reporter he said that he had no tidea that he was doing anything contrary to law. He said that he did not want to marry Cornelia Briggs, but that her mother made him do so.

FOUND DEAD ON THE CAR TRACKS.

FOUND DEAD ON THE CAR TRACKS.

Patrick Foy was driving a Second Avenue car past Forty-third-st. before daylight yesterday morning when his team left the track to avoid an object which lay across one of the rails. The driver did not see the object until the car was close to it, and the forward wheels passed over it before Foy could stop the car. He soon saw that the object beneath his car was the body of a man. George Wolf, of
No. 353 Third-ave., and James Cahill, of No. 110
Lewis-st., who were riding in the car at the time, helped the driver to lift the body and carry it to the sidewalk.

It was that of a man about thirty-four years of heiped the driver to lift, the body and carry it to the sidewalk.

It was that of a man about thirty-four years of age, cressed as a laborer, of medium height, with dark hair, sandy mustache and goatee. Foy was arrested by the police pending an investigation, and the body was removed to the Morgue. There were several slight ents and bruises about the head, but nothing to arouse suspicious of foul play on the part of the police. The visiting sergeant of the Ninetecarth Precinct, who had crossed the street where the dead man was picked up, ten minutes before, believed that the man was intoxicated and in attempting to cross caught his noot in the car track and fell, remaining unconscious of his position. The officer of the post, having only four blocks to cover-from Forty-second to Forty-sixth-st.—thought if there had been any quarred or disturbance he would certainly have heard it. No clew to the identity of the dead man was discovered. It is supposed that he was killed by the car.

FATALLY INJURED WHILE DRUNK.

FATALLY INJURED WHILE DRUNK.

Daniel Casey, a longshoreman, age forty-five, of Ko. 67 Greenwich-st., died yesterday at the Chambers Street Hospital, from lock-law, caused by a wound in the head received about two weeks ago. Casey applied to Dr. Wright at the hospital for treatment on April 12. He then stated that he had received a wound while intoxicated, several days previously, but did not know in what manner. Mrs. Casey, the wife of the dead man, was found at No. 67 Greenwich-st., and said that her husband received his injuries at the hands of Timothy Brosnenn, and, that she intended to enter a complaint against him. She stated that on April 1 Casey had been pushed by Brosnenn at Dover and Front sts, so that he fell and received the injury that caused his death.

Anhalt was chosen chairman, and B. Strams secretary. Speeches were made in both English and German by Robert Bartholomee, S. E. Shevitch, R. Bisseri, Louis Miller, C. Seelig and others. It was stated that the vages in the trade were so low, and the time of work so inadequately specified, that many families were unable to earn enough for their support. A greater unity of action among the tailors was advised, Resolutions were adopted to unite in a stronger organization for the purpose of raising wages, to shorten the hours of labor, and to exclude the work of women and children; the latter clause being inserted, the resolutions declared, "that our children may be better educated, and the condition of our family life improved."

A meeting of about 300 members of the Houseframers' Union was held at No. 28 Stanton-st. yesterday morning. John Ritter was chosen chairman. A resolution was adopted declaying that on May 1 50 cents more a day would be demanded for each workman and ten hours' labor, and that on Saturdays work should stop at 4 p. in.

TOO HASTY WITH HIS SUSPICIONS.

TOO HASTY WITH HIS SUSPICIONS.

Cornelius Esseltyne lives in the fashionable boarding-heuse at No. 30 West Twenty-third-st, and created considerable excitement in the house one day hast week by claiming that a pair of operagisses had been stolen from his room. Circumstances seemed to point to William McNally, a man who did occasional work about the house, and on Saturday he was arrested and committel to answer a charge of stealing the glasses, although he strenuously denied that he was guilty, and begged to be spared the disgrace of being locked up. At the dinner table that evening the boarders were discassing the matter, when a young man who occupies a room adjoining Esseltyne's made the announcement that he had noticed the operagiasses on the mantel, and had taken them out of the room to look at some young women across the way, and after using them laid them down in his room and went out, forgetting to return them to their place. The young men hurried to the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning and had McNally honorably discharged. They were profuse in their expressions of sorrow at falsely accusing him. TOO HASTY WITH HIS SUSPICIONS.

SUING HER DAUGHTER-IN-LAW.

One of the will contests now before Chancellor Runyon, of New-Jersey, is a suit brought against Mrs. Cornelia Whiteman, the widow and executive of Samuel Whiteman, of Englewood, by Mrs. Benjamin B. Whiteman her mother-in-law, who lives in Brocklyn. Benjamin B. Whiteman died March 21, 1872. His will gave to his wife his household goods and the interest on $5,000 to be paid monthly as long as she remained his widow. "The money," the will stated, "is now in the hands of my son, Samuel Whiteman, in trust for me and invested in his name for my benefit."

In February of last year the sen, Samuel Whiteman, who lived at Englewood, died, and his will left to his wife Cornelia, the defendant in the present snit, all his real and personal property. In the bill of complaint it is set forth that Mrs. Benjamin B. Whitman has received no money from her husband's estate, and she has brought the suit accordingly to recover the real and personal property. This is not a large amount. SUING HER DAUGHTER-IN-LAW.

Detective Roche arrested Margaret Woods, age thirty-six, of No. 73 Washington-st., yesterday, upon a charge of stealing money and property valued at $200 from the hones of R. Fowler, at No. 341 Union-st., during February. She was sentenced to four months in the Penitentiary.

George Day, driver of Fire Department truck No. 2, and an ex-policemen, named Charles Schoeneberger, became involved in a quarrel on Saturday night near Day's house. Schoeneberger drew a knife and stabbed Day back of the left shoulder, inflicting a serious wound. He was arrested.

As a middle-aged man and woman on Saturday night were about to board a Western-bound train on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Market-st., a young man stepped forward and prevented them, declaring to the bystanders that the companion of the woman was his father and that it was the intention of the couple to clope. The train passed out of the station and the father and son walked up the street. The woman diappeared.

Valentine Bundstein, who lives with his wife at No. 273 Hunterdon-st., was charged with brurally besting the woman on Thursday night, At different times during the night he dragged her from her bed where she was lying ill beside her ten-months-old babe, and kicked her and jumped upon her. At 3 o'clock in the morning some of the indignant neighbors rescued the woman and removed her to a place of safety, and complaint was afterward made to the police authorities.

FRAGRANT AS A BANK OF VIOLETS. ALLCOCK'S PLASTERS. How different the imitations,

Like Polonius they are easily nowed. Alleock's Plasters combine a Stomach, Liver, Lung and Kid ney Pad, all for twenty five cents.

EAST LIVER NATIONAL BANK, 682 Broadway, New-York, April 12, 1879. Hon, B. Brandreth :

MY DEAR DOCTOR: I have used Allcock's Plastens for many years. You advise pturing the Plasters where the local pain is most severe; in dyspepsis, on the pit of the storach; pain is most severe; in species and provide the severe in ague cake, on the spleen; in torpid liver, over that organ; but I really think you should also recommend that one or two Plasters be put over the kidneys. They stimulate, strengthen and act as powerful diurctics, thus casting out many poisonous acids and salts. I have had fever and ague. The remedies I took produced little or no effect until I put an ALLCOCK's PLASTER over eac' kidney, their action being more than doubled—the malaria was quickly washed away. I have also had several attacks of rheumatism and two of gout, and by applying the Plasters over the local pair, and also over the kidneys, I again found them wonderfully efficacious. They are the most speedy, cheap and re lable Plasters in the world.
